THE BISHOP OF LONDON.

A TRIBUTE—BY ONE WHO KNOWS HIM.

A MAN OF SINGULAR GRACE OF CHARACTER.

An interesting tribute by "E.J.A." in connection with the visit of the Bishop of London to Hong Kong, appears in the current issue of St. John's Cathedral Notes.

The writer says:—The visit of the Bishop of London to the Church in Hong Kong this month is the visit of no ordinary man, nor is it the visit, merely, of a prelate who distinguished himself because he happened to be the Bishop of London. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, as Bishop of London for over 25 years (a period of rule exceeded by only one or two in the long line of predecessors in this great office), has adorned and added lustre to the exalted position of London's Bishop; and if he had not been a bishop he would have attained brilliant distinction as a man.

His distinction as a man lies in the singular grace of his character, his deep human sympathies, his charm, his playful humour. His distinction as a bishop lies in his persistent devotion to duty, his powers of penetration, his ready crystal speech, his transparent goodness, his spirit of love. A former Bishop of Worcester once said to the writer, a parish priest in the London Diocese, "Your Bishop is held in special regard by his fellow bishops. Whenever he comes in amongst us he seems to lift us up to a higher level." He has been described by a Lord Chancellor as the most loved man in London. His presence is a solace to the grief-stricken and the sufferer, an uplifting influence to men.

This remarkable man has been exerting his ministry amongst his fellows during an already long life in various capacities and all sorts and conditions, from the working man in Bethnal Green to members of the Royal House, have found occasion to bless God for him. When he was quite a young man, was Head of the Oxford House Settlement in the east end of London, the present writer met a humble member of the Men's Club connected with the Settlement and asked him what his opinion was of Mr. Ingram. The answer came eagerly, "I reckon he's a special man."

It was while Head of Oxford House that Mr. Ingram delivered, in 1895, a course of Six Lectures on Pastoral Theology in the Divinity Schools, Cambridge. The lectures can still be read in book form under the title of Work in Great Cities, and their charm, their freshness, their peculiar appealing note, have not gone out of them. There is a testimony to the qualities which made men feel Mr. Ingram to be a "special" man in the preface to this book by the late Bishop Ryle, Dean of Westminster, when a professor at Cambridge. "Many of us," he writes, "were deeply moved by the perfect simplicity and admirable directness with which Mr. Ingram spoke, out of the fulness of his own experience, and out of the richness of the sympathy with young men. We in Cambridge gained some insight into the secret of the influence which he wielded as a leader of the Oxford men who are now living in East London, making their hardest task their best delight."

Mr. Ingram established a wonderful supremacy over the hearts of the people of the east end of London. Crowds followed him wherever he went to speak or preach, and when, early in 1898, he was selected to succeed the then new Bishop of Bristol as Suffragan Bishop of Stepney his appointment was hailed with universal delight. At the Church Congress in London in 1900 nothing would content the vast audience in the Albert Hall, at the conclusion of the inaugural meeting presided over by the great Bishop Creighton, until the young Bishop of Stepney had come forward to say a few words and to receive the remarkable demonstration of affection which was then accorded him.

When, a little later, in 1901, he succeeded his chief as Bishop of London it was feared that the burden of so great an office would prove too heavy for a man of his peculiar grace and gifts. Events most happily have shown such fear to have been groundless. He has now been administering the diocese for over a quarter of a century, and the people of Hong Kong will soon have an opportunity of seeing for themselves, in the still buoyant carriage and athletic figure of the Bishop, in his beautiful countenance and his cheerful though somewhat tired voice, how magnificently he has come through the strain of his vast responsibilities, surviving them all to undertake, with abundant energy and optimism, this remarkable mission of love and encouragement of his to the great outposts of the Anglican Church throughout the world.

The Bishop has remained unmarried. A bachelor, he has made his beautiful Palace at Fulham the home of numberless people who come and go and the meeting place of many Christian workers. He shares the domestic trials and joys of his people, priests and lay. He comes to Hong Kong after saying goodbye, for a time, to a vast, loving family for whom he greatly cares.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH.

IMPORTANT MATTERS RECENTLY DISCUSSED.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CLUB.

Two matters of importance to the Diocese in general and St. Peter's in particular, were considered at a meeting of the Church Council held on November 10th, states St. John's Cathedral Notes, namely the securing of a permanent Chaplain for the Church and the removal of St. Peter's to a site at Happy Valley. A deputation has been formed to interview the Bishop on these matters. The opinion was expressed that the re-erection of the Church was really a piece of Church Extension and should therefore concern the whole Diocese. This step requires such careful preparation that it was felt the question of the New Church cannot be satisfactorily considered until a permanent Chaplain could be secured to supervise what after all is a delicate piece of work. There is, of course, no doubt that St. Peter's does make a large contribution to the spiritual life of the Colony. Further, this contribution tends to increase in the future. In fact as far back as 1921 the Standing Committee of the Diocesan Conference unanimously passed the following resolution:—"That since it is evident from the Chaplain's report that St. Peter's is carrying on an important work at West Point, the Standing Committee be asked to take steps to strengthen its position." In March, 1925, the Colonial Secretary presented a Bill for the removal of St. Peter's to a new site which would enable it to carry on a more useful work. The recently formed Young Men's Club, too, is a venture which requires all the energy of a full-time Chaplain in order to consolidate and further its cause. Three weeks after a circular letter was issued, 170 applications were received from young men here for membership in the Club. This is but another point to show that St. Peter's to-day is exerting a strong influence for good on the young as well as of the old.

Young Men's Club.

The Executive Committee has been very busy of late drafting out programmes and appointing sub-committees to organise the various activities of the Club. The Sports section is already busy. A friendly Tennis Match with the Kennedy Road Married Quarters Tennis Club was very keenly fought. A return match will soon be played. The football team will start its practice and matches early in December. It is decided to enter a team for the Shield Competition this year. Information regarding this can be obtained from Mr. E. G. Stewart of St. Paul's College.

GUY FAWKES NIGHT.

30-CAMBRIDGE UNDERGRADUATES ARRESTED.

In the bonfire night "rag" in the Market Square at Cambridge on November 5th hundreds of undergraduates took part. They invited arrest by throwing fireworks, turning out street lamps, smashing the lamp cases, and scrambling with the police. By ten o'clock 30 of them were in custody.

After they were charged they were released on bail to appear at the Police Court the next morning. Some attempts at rescue were made, and policemen drew their truncheons. They did not use them, however.

London Students' Fireworks and Bonfire.

The great quadrangle of University College, Gower Street, echoed on the same night with the explosions of fireworks, and was illuminated by a giant bonfire and several searchlights. The bonfire had been prepared in the centre of the quadrangle, and before the proceedings began students with a barrel organ canvassed successfully for the Centenary Fund.

The proceedings started quietly, but suddenly a loud detonation from one corner of the quadrangle announced the arrival of the "Guy" procession. This consisted of a weird assortment of devils and others bearing the two "guys," who were beheaded, with much pomp and ceremony. When their decapitated bodies had been thrown on the still unlit pyre, a string of fireworks went off at a given signal, and the whole pile of rubbish burst into flames. The heat was so great that the front ranks of the spectators had to evacuate their positions hurriedly and seek safety further to the rear.

His human sympathies and interests show themselves in many ways. Manly sports attract him. He delights to meet men in contest over tennis, squash, racquets, and golf; and in any of these games he is no mean adversary.

He is a man of many parts; and these notes are put together by one who has touched the Bishop's life at many points, over a long period, and who gratefully acknowledges the debt he owes to the beauty of his life and character. The Church in Hong Kong will be refreshed and blessed by his visit; for the Spirit of God is upon him, and those who see and hear him will find that he is a true minister of that Spirit.

SATURDAY'S LOCAL FOOTBALL.

RECREIO MAINTAIN WINNING RECORD.

KOWLOON'S FINE WIN.

CLUB AND BORDERERS' DEFEAT OPPONENTS.

A feature of Saturday's local football was that the Club de Recreio maintained its unbeaten record, and defeated the Chinese Athletic by a big margin. The Borderers won their second league match, beating the Police; while the Club eleven, secured further League points by reason of their victory over South China.

The R.A. Reserves won in the Second Division, and St. Joseph's College Reserves also maintained an unbeaten record.

RESULTS IN BRIEF.

The games in the Hong Kong League on Saturday resulted as under:—

Division I.
Club de Recreio 5 China Athletic 1
Kowloon 3 H.M.S. Tamar 0
Hong Kong Club 2 South China 0
K.O.S.B.'s 1 Hong Kong Police 0

Division II. "A."
C. de Rec. Res. 4 China Ath. "B" 0
R.A. Reserves 2 China Ath. "A" 2
H.K. Club Res. 1 St. Joseph's C. 1

Division II. "B."
St. Joseph's Res. 5 South China 3
Boy Scouts 3 Kowloon "B" 2
H.K. & S. Bank 0 China Ath. "A" 0

The following games were not played:—
Division II. "A": Kowloon Reserves v. K.O.S.B.'s Reserves.

Division II. "B": Moslem Club v. China Athletic "B."

DIVISION I.

Hongkong Club v. South China.
Playing at home, the Hong Kong Club beat South China by two goals to nil.

For the Club McBride played back, and his place was taken in the middle line by Vickers of the Reserves. Howard played centre forward.

The opening play was mostly in mid-field. From a centre by Taylor, Hanson headed on to Key who sent in and Lau partly cleared but with an overhead kick Hanson lobbed the ball into the net. The Club came back again and Taylor should have increased their lead but turned the ball wide. Halftime: H.K. Club 1, South China 0.

After a spell of even play Howard from twenty-five yards out sent in a fast cross shot which hit the foot of the upright and shot into the net. Lau making no attempt to save, thinking the ball was going outside. Towards the close, South China played up strongly but though the Club goal had several narrow escapes, there was no further score. South China thus being beaten by two goals to nil. Mr. A. A. Dawes was the referee.

Club de Recreio v. China Athletic.

A large crowd of Chinese supporters visited the Recreio's new ground at King's Park to cheer their favourites, but the Club de Recreio were on top of their form and although they lost their centre half in the first portion of the game, they beat the Athletic by five goals to one. The Recreio opened the score through Brown but Wong Pak Chong brought the teams level. Then Brown again netting and though A. A. Remedios was injured and retired from the game, D. Xavier scored for the home team who were leading at the interval by three goals to one.

In the latter stages the Athletic showed signs of a strenuous first half, and before the final whistle the Recreio put on a fifth without any reply from the Athletic who were thus defeated by five goals to one. Capt. Austin, R.A., was the referee.

Kowloon v. "Tamar."

The Tamar did not play up to expectations on the Railway ground at Kowloon and went down to the home team by three clear goals. Kowloon had to bring in several Reserves and were forced to postpone their junior "A" game. The game was very one-sided. Eastman scored the opening goal and before the interval, Miles had put the home team further ahead.

In the second half the sailors played better but Simms was in great form, Muir had scored another goal for Kowloon who won by three goals to nil.

K.O.S.B.'s v. Police.

Losing by a penalty goal to the K.O.S.B.'s, the Police put up a great fight on the Garrison ground at Seokun-poo. Sherry was out of the field through injuries and Harle partnered Wynne at back. McLeod made his first appearance for the Police and should strengthen the attack. McClintock turned out for the K.O.S.B.'s after a fortnight's absence through injuries. The K.O.S.B.'s had the better of the first half but there was no score at the interval.

The Police attacked hard in the second half but Wynne handled in front of goal when the Borderers were pressing and Davey beat Clarke with the penalty kick giving the K.O.S.B.'s the lead. The Police tried hard to level up but the final whistle sounded with the soldiers leading by a goal to nil.

DIVISION II. "A."

R.A. Res. v. China Athletic "A."
A late start was made on the Club ground owing to the R.A. being delayed. China had the better of the opening exchanges but the R.A. took the lead through a high shot by Smith, Hui in goal being blinded by the sun.

In the second half the R.A. played up strongly and Philipps scored with a shot that gave Hui no chance. Bridgman played well in goal for the R.A. who won by two goals to nil.

THE FIGHT IN THE DARK.

PIRATE BRAINED BY CHIEF OFFICER.

"SUNNING" CAPTAIN'S STORY CONTINUED.

THE STEAMERS THAT PASSED BY.

NO NOTICE TAKEN OF BURNING VESSEL, MORSE SIGNALS, OR ROCKETS.

Captain James Pringle, master of the China Navigation Company's s.s. "Sunning," which was pirated while on the way from Amoy to Hong Kong last month, continued his graphic story at the Central Magistracy, before Mr. R. E. Lindsell on Saturday morning, when the case against the twenty accused men, held on charges arising out of the piracy of the vessel, was continued.

Captain Pringle described the fight in the dark and in the early hours of the morning between the officers of the "Sunning" and the pirates, and the killing of two of them by the Second Officer and the Chief Officer.

The most poignant part of the story was when he related how two steamers passed by, taking no notice of the Morse signals flashed for help, the blowing of the syren whistle, with the last available steam, the firing of rockets, and the flames of the ship. Captain Pringle said he was convinced that the flames and the rockets must have been seen.

The same procedure, as at Friday's hearing, was adopted with regard to the accused. They were brought into Court handcuffed in pairs, but the manacles were removed on their taking up position in front of the dock. Police Officers and detectives formed a strong guard at the rear of the Court and at all exits.

Mr. H. E. Holmes (Crown Solicitor) appeared for the prosecution. Mr. G. A. Gordon-Leask, of Messrs. Hall Brutton & Co., was for the 18th accused—the Ningpo man; Mr. Leo d'Almada was for the second accused; while Mr. M. K. Lo appeared for the sixth accused and ten others. The names, ages, and occupations of the accused, were published in Saturday's issue.

Mrs. Lindsell and another lady occupied chairs on the Bench; while in the crowded Court there were several other ladies.

The Captain's Story.

Captain Pringle went into the witness-box and took up his story from the point where he left off on Friday afternoon, when related how he was unable to dip his flag to the Amoy when she passed. His evidence in chief is expected to conclude to-day, and after that he will be cross-examined.

Captain Pringle said that the weather was fine, with an overcast sky. When proceeding to the saloon for dinner, he passed cabin No. 1, the door of which was open. The cabin has been occupied since the ship left Amoy. Witness saw one of the pirates sitting on the floor smoking opium.

Mr. Holmes: Can you identify the man?

Witness: It was either No. 8 or No. 17.

His Worship: I don't think I can take that.

Proceeding, Captain Pringle said that in the saloon he found the second officer, Mr. Lapsley, the Russian lady passenger, the second and third engineers and the wireless operator. One of the pirates accompanied witness from the bridge and stood in the doorway on guard while he (witness) took his meal. On completing his dinner, witness returned to the bridge.

There were never less than two pirates on guard on the bridge, and occasionally more than this number.

At 10 p.m. they passed a ship which began moving. "What ship, what ship?" This brought a good number of pirates on to the bridge in a very excited state. One started prodding witness with a rifle. He was not allowed to reply to the passing ship.

A Pirate Knocked Out.

The usual lights were burning on the Sunning until midnight. Between midnight and 12.30 Chiung light showed up, and the pirates warned him, through Mr. Lapsley, to be careful. At 12.30 witness said "there is the light" and then walked to the port side of the bridge. Shortly after witness heard a scuffle, and on walking amidships he saw that one pirate had been knocked down by the second officer and then saw the second officer and chief officer busy knocking the second pirate down. Witness asked: "What are you doing?" and then realised that an attempt was being made to re-capture the ship. He went to the port side to arm himself with the deep sea lead, which was usually on the port side of the navigating bridge, but did not find it. Witness then searched the man who had been knocked out and found some ammunition, but could not find any firearms.

The pirate who had been guarding the Europeans down below came up the ladder and fired two shots at the chief officer on the bridge from a rifle. The chief officer returned the fire, hitting the pirate who tumbled down the ladder. This alarmed the Europeans down below. The second engineer came up the ladder and the others got through the skylight. The second officer gave witness a loaded revolver and said "look after the port side of the bridge." The starboard wing of the bridge was guarded by the chief officer and the second engineer. Witness had no cause to fire.

Brainied With a Rifle.

Witness next heard the mate say "I've got his rifle." Then witness heard a shot and went to the middle of the bridge and found that the pirate who had been lying on the bridge partly stunned had recovered and had fired at the chief officer. The chief officer brainied him with a rifle, breaking the stock in doing so.

Captain Pringle said that the twentieth accused—a man still wearing a bandage around his head—was one of the men who were on the bridge.

The pirates down below then started to fire at the starboard side of the bridge. At his request, witness gave his revolver to the Chief Officer, whose weapon had become jammed. In the wing of the bridge on the starboard side were the Chief Officer, the Second Officer and the Second Engineer, who were returning the fire of the pirates. Intermittent firing continued until the pirates left the ship about 4 a.m. or 4.30 a.m. "We could only fire when saw something to fire at," added Captain Pringle, "as we had no ammunition to waste most of the firing came from the pirates."

About 2 a.m. the ship was just about stopped; the engines were just turning over, steam was going back and the vessel barely had only steering way on. The lights on the ship were still on, but dimmer. The only light on the bridge during the firing was the steering compass light. After the moon went dark in about 2 a.m. the night became very dark.

No Notice Taken.

At 2.10 a.m. a steamer's light appeared. As she came abreast, witness started mowing with the electric Morse lamp "Sunning-help-Pirates." The ship returned no answer. As no attention was paid to this signal, the same message was sent in Morse on the syren of the Sunning. The steamer paid no attention, however, to either signal. The International distress signal was then sounded, by keeping the syren whistle going for about five minutes. Witness tried to get the Sunning nearer the passing ship by cutting across her bows, but the Sunning had no way on by this time, and he did not succeed.

The Fire Started.

After another attack the pirates realised they could not recapture the ship and they started a fire about 1.30 a.m. By 2 a.m. the flames were burning brightly and the ship which had passed must have seen that the Sunning was on fire.

His Worship: Would that ship see the flames when she passed you at 2 a.m.?

Captain Pringle: If they were looking at us they could not help seeing the flames, and knowing that the ship was on fire. They paid absolutely no attention to the signals, and held on their course.

His Worship: To Mr. Holmes: Have you any idea what ship this was?

Mr. Holmes: We have some information, but I would not like to say definitely.

Captain Pringle was asked if he could say what name the ship in question bore, and replied that he could not say. There were certain ships which left Hong Kong about this time, but he did not know this vessel.

Chief Engineer Wounded.

Previous to this, continued Captain Pringle, the Chief Engineer, who was unable to come through the skylight to the bridge, had come up the ladder, and in doing so was wounded. Witness first saw the Chief Engineer lying on the bridge wounded, about 12.35. The Chief Engineer remarked: "They have got me through the thigh."

Witness continued that he sent the Chief Officer for rockets and blue lights about 2 a.m. when the ship referred to passed.

When they started mowing and blowing the syren some people were lowering No. 5 boat, the smallest boat of the ship from the poop deck. The boat left the ship and there appeared to be about seven or eight people in her. Witness did not see them get in, but through glasses he saw the boat get away from the ship. It was evident that those in her did not know much about handling a boat, as she was broadside on to the sea, and there was a high sea running. The boat floated away in this dangerous position, instead of being brought head on.

Witness could not identify anyone present as having been in that boat. Owing to the high sea and fresh moonlight, it was dangerous for a boat of that size. Either someone had to go overboard, or some stuff had to go overboard, or she was to live. The boat was well laden from her appearance. When the ship was later searched Mr. Lapsley could not be found.

After Chiling Point, continued Capt. Pringle, he did not see anything of Mr. Lapsley again.

"Must Have Seen Our Rockets and Flames."

About 3.30 a.m. another steamer passed between the Sunning and the shore, about three miles off. At this time the lights on the Sunning were not burning, the ship was stopped, and the electric and ship's navigation lights were out. About three rockets were fired in an attempt to attract the attention of the passing ship. There was just a little steam left, and this was expended in sounding the whistle in a last hope. Witness said he did not think the sound of the whistle carried the distance. The steamer continued on her way.

To his Worship Captain Pringle said: I am convinced that anyone on board that ship must have seen our rockets and also our flames.

Proceeding, witness said that at 4 a.m. the ship was in very great danger owing to the fire. He ordered the boatswain to let go the starboard anchor, and this was eventually done the chain running out to the length of sixty fathoms. That brought the Sunning around head to wind, and took the flames away from No. 2 hold and the direction of the bridge.

Another Steamer Appears.

At 4.30 continued Captain Pringle, the lights of another steamer were seen. By this time the ship was a mass of flames amidships. Rockets were fired and the approaching steamer altered her course and came toward the Sunning.

The pirates made no attempt to put out the fire. They got frightened about it eventually, however, and sent a man to the foredeck, who yelled out that if the officers gave up their arms they would put out the fire. "Suppose you give up guns, bad men help you put out fire," was the message. This offer was refused, but later the same messenger returned and said that the pirates would leave the ship, but they were afraid they would be fired at. Witness replied that the messenger could tell them to go away and they would not be fired at. The pirates then went away in one of the boats, No. 6. About ten people were in this boat.

Mr. Lo: Must ask your Worship to make a special note of those words.

Captain Pringle: Some of the pirates.

Mr. Lindsell: I must impress upon the witness the necessity to confine himself to what he actually saw with his own eyes and what he personally heard. If he goes beyond that, he is bound to get into difficulties.

Mr. Lo: He said that the pirates left the ship. That is a very material fact as far as my clients are concerned.

Mr. Holmes: I asked whether a boat had left the ship. My friend Mr. Leask will support me.

His Worship: Quite. It is the witness's reply that Mr. Lo refers to, but he has now qualified it.

Lifeboat Drifts Away.

Proceeding, Captain Pringle said that immediately after this boat got away, another lifeboat was lowered, by the officers, the No. 2 boat. The ship was then a mass of flames, and it was deemed expedient to lower this boat. In the boat were the Second Officer, the third Engineer, the wireless operator, two quartermasters, and also the Russian lady passenger. After the boat had been dropped to the level of the aft welldeck, from where it was intended to take on other people, the heat from the centre castle, and the jump of the sea, proved to be too much strain on the painter, by which the boat was secured to the ship, and it parted, with the result that the boat drifted away from the Sunning.

At this stage the hearing was adjourned until this afternoon at 2.15. His Worship intimating that he would sit on Thursday afternoon, instead of Wednesday afternoon, as previously arranged.

CHINA COAST CAPTAIN ADDED.
SCOPE OF ENQUIRY WIDENED.

The proclamation published in the Government Gazette of last week with regard to the Commission of Enquiry into the piracy of the China Navigation Company's s.s. Sunning has been revoked, and the proclamation now appears in this week's Gazette in an amended form.

The alteration made in it is the addition to the Commission of a mercantile marine officer with a master's certificate having a knowledge of the China Coast, and the addition of a further term of reference giving the Commission general powers to make recommendations as to the measures for preventing piracy.

The new member of the Commission is Captain Allan Hugh Stewart, of the Douglas Steamship Company, Limited, and the additional term of reference is "to consider generally and to make recommendations as to the measures necessary for preventing piracy."

CINEMALAND.

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAMMES AT LOCAL THEATRE.

This week the series of pictures shown on local screens are of a well named, and attractive nature, the principal roles being taken by some of the best known movie artists.

The Queen's.

Yesterday at the Queen's Theatre we had a fast moving comedy-drama in "Merton of the Movies," packed with good comedy throughout. It was adapted from the successful play, which in turn was taken from the novel by Harry Leon Wilson. Glenn Hunter, who played the title role on the stage, also fills this character on the screen. He is excellent throughout as the awkward country youth ambitious of becoming a film star, and the story shows his rise to that position, unexpectedly and after many trials, and ridiculous disillusionments.

"Merton of the Movies," which is a Paramount picture, will be shown again to-day.

For to-morrow and Wednesday we have "Lovers in Quarantine," a comedy, featuring Bebe Daniels. The picture is taken from Tennyson Jesse's play, "Quarantine," should provide an excellent couple of hours' enjoyment.

For the Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be the film version of "The Bat." It provides mystery, suspense, and excitement, from first to last.

The World.

Opening yesterday and running until to-morrow, "Sally of the Sawdust" is running at the World Theatre. The picture has plenty of laughter, and paches and is extremely well acted. It deals with circus life.

From Wednesday to Thursday "The Wall Flower," a new Goldwyn picture is showing. "The Wall Flower," a plain girl is admirably portrayed by Colleen Moore.

At the end of the week, from Friday to Saturday inclusive, we shall have "Married Birts," a picture version of the novel by Joseph Vance.

The Star.

Concluding to-day, "Don't Doubt Your Husband," a comedy, is showing at the Star Theatre, Kowloon. It tells of how the admiration of a married man for a pretty lady house decorator leads to trouble and containing highly diverting situations.

From to-morrow to Wednesday, "The Courtship of Miles Standish" will be the big feature. The story of Captain Miles Standish, by Henry Wadsworth, is well known, and the picture version does full justice to it.

At the end of the week there is "The Dark Swan," with Marie Prevost and Monte Blue in the principal roles. This picture is taken from the novel by Ernest Pascal.

BRITISH TORPEDO PLANES FOR JAPAN.

A fleet of the latest type of British Blackburn-Napier torpedo-planes has been purchased by the Japanese Government for use with the Japanese Navy. These torpedo-planes are designed for use either as land or sea planes, and can be stored on the deck of a battleship. They are lowered from the deck to the water to "take off," and after discharging their torpedoes alight on the water alongside the ship to be hoisted on board. They can carry a torpedo weighing nearly a ton.

LABOUR ELEMENTS IN CONTROL.

CIVIL GOVERNOR OF FUKIEN.

CHINA MERCHANTS' STEAMERS
IN CANTON.

NEW RADIO STATION.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

In Fatsan, as in Swatow, the labour elements seem to have secured full control in matters of trade and politics. Several murders resulted from labour disputes last week but the Police were not allowed to interfere.

Foochow, as reported, has come under the control of the Kuomintang, but Admiral Sah Chen Ping, Civil Governor of Fukien, is remaining in his post for the time being. Admiral Sah, the "grand old man" of the Chinese Navy, has always been friendly to the Cantonese. During the dispute between the Cantonese and the "Monarchists" under Lung Chi Kuang in Canton on 1916, Admiral Sah acted as a mediator and succeeded in getting the "Monarchists" out of Kuangtung.

A number of Shanghai merchants have petitioned the Kuomintang to allow importers to unload the cargo on the three vessels of the China Merchants' S.N. Company, which are detained in Canton. The Kuomintang, however, have been unable to get the consent of the Labour Unions to this. All that they have been able to do has been to place police on the ships to prevent pilfering.

The branch of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Co. in Swatow, where several of the vessels are also being held by the Seamen's Union, is making local arrangements to settle the issue. Union seamen, it is said, will be re-employed with higher wages and better service conditions.

The Kuomintang are still offering to lease the plant of the Canton Cement Works to any responsible party who will operate it. Tenders are to be opened early next week. The Kuomintang expect to be able to get $200,000 or more a year from the plant.

Mr. T. V. Soong, Mr. Eugene Chen, Mr. George Hsu Chien, Mr. Sun Fo and Mr. Borodin arrived at Nanchang, the capital of Kiangsi, on December 3rd, according to news received in Canton.

Leading organizations in Canton were busy last week saying farewell to Kuomintang officials who are removing to Wuchang and Hankow. The civil administration offices are to move first, while military organizations will remain in Canton until further notice from General Chiang Kai Shek who is now recognised as the chief executive of the administration supervising the Provinces of Kwangtung, Kwangsi, Hunan, Hupeh, Kiangsi, and Fukien.

Canton is having erected a long-range radio station by which it is hoped the local Kuomintang will be able to communicate with all comrades in the provinces under the red standard.

WHY STRIKE PAY HAS BEEN DELAYED.

COMMITTEE'S EXPLANATION.

The Committee for the payment of allowance to the Canton-Hong Kong strikers has given publicity to a letter addressed to the strikers, saying that as a result of the fire in the Tung Yuan some of the documents and books were lost and it sometimes happens that payment of allowance is delayed.

The letter points out that such delay is solely due to the procedure involved in re-making lists of strikers and that the current rumours accusing the Committee of failing to pay allowances are purely fabrications.

Compensation for Workers' Families.
The Canton-Hong Kong Strike Committee has petitioned the Nationalist Government for compensation for the families of worker strikers who died of illness caused by the change of the climate, while serving as members of the Transport Corps for the Revolutionary Troops during the expedition to the East River region last year, and the Nationalist Government has sanctioned the payment of an allowance of $100 each.

CANTON-KOWLOON RAILWAY.
PROPOSED EXTENSION.

It is reported that Director Lo Min of the Canton-Kowloon Railway is proposing to rebuild part of the railway, and to extend it to connect with the Wai-Chang Road in Wai-chow. His object is to extend the business of the line, which, it is said, has been already improved since communications were restored between Canton and Hong Kong.

BOXING AND DANCING.

THEIR GROWING POPULARITY
IN CHINA.BOXING CLASSES FOR CHINESE
GIRLS IN HONG KONG.VISIT OF A YOUNG DANCER
FROM CANTON.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

Boxing and dancing are becoming more popular every day with Young China. The Chin Woo Athletic Association at Arbuthnot Road entertained a large gathering of friends last week and some of the most interesting items on the programme were the dances by Chinese girls.

More than 200 young men of the South China Athletic Association have joined the boxing classes, and a well-known instructor from the North has just arrived to join the teaching staff. But the young women do not wish to be outdone by their brothers in the art of self-defence and in answer to their demands a class is being arranged exclusively for their benefit. Boxing classes for Chinese girls!

Tempora mutantur.
Miss Chi Lo Lan, the ten-year-old daughter of Madame Ma Chung Ying, an accomplished oil and water-colour artist in Canton, will visit Hong Kong some time next week to appear at an entertainment under the auspices of the Chung Shing Charitable Association.

Miss Chi Lo Lan is one of the best-known amateur singers and dancers in Canton and among those who have expressed high appreciation of her ability is General Chiang Kai Shek. Some time ago in Canton, after a series of entertainments for charity, the Committee in charge of the arrangements decided to make Miss Chi Lo Lan a presentation and General Chiang Kai Shek personally handed her a gift of a gold watch.

Mr. Churchill T. M. Chiu, Commissioner for the Education of Railway Workers of the Ministry of Communications of Peking, who is on his way to America and Europe on a mission of investigation into the educational facilities provided for similar services in those countries, paid a visit to his parents in Hong Kong last week and left for San Francisco by the s.s. President Taft on December 6th. Before entering Government service at Peking, Mr. Chiu was a member of the educational bureau of Canton. He is a graduate of the Higher Normal School in Canton, now the Chungshan University.

THE PENSIONS OF CADETS.

LOCAL MINUTES AMENDED.

The current Government Gazette notices that the Pension Minute which appears in General Orders of the Hong Kong Government is amended by the deletion of Paragraph 3 of Clause No. 11 and the substitution thereof of the following:—

"Service will be deemed to commence for pension purposes, in the case of Cadets as well as of other officers, at the date on which they commence to draw salary, provided that if a Cadet without cause which the Governor in his discretion considers adequate fails to pass the final examination in the native language within the prescribed period, the period by which the date of his passing his final examination is overdue will be deducted from his term of service when his claims to pension are considered."

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY IN YAUMATI.

BANDITS ESCAPE IN MOTOR CAR.

Four or five bandits, who used a motor car to make good their escape, carried out a robbery in broad daylight on Friday afternoon in Yaumati district.

At about 1.30 p.m. the gang drove in a motor car to No. 216, Temple Street, Yaumati. They knocked at the door of the 2nd floor, and asked if the inmates wanted to buy fireworks. When the door was opened by a Chinese lady, the bandits pushed their way. Two of the gang mounted guard over the occupants, whilst other ransacked the premises.

A cash box was found with money and jewellery to the total value of $512. Having achieved their object, the robbers left the house and drove away in the waiting car. Details of the loot have been supplied to the police.

As to the identity of the gang, the Chinese lady who was robbed said that the leader had on several occasions sold her fireworks. She said she would be able to identify him if arrested.

ALLEGED PERJURER ABSCONDS.

REVELATION IN THE BANKRUPTCY
COURT.

HATS AND SEWING MACHINES.

At a Bankruptcy Court last June, Mr. D. W. Tratman asked the Chief Justice for an order for the temporary detention of Lee Chak Man, a Chinese debtor on a charge of perjury. His Lordship said that his powers did not admit him to make such an order.

At the Bankruptcy Court on Saturday, Mr. Tratman said that the debtor had now absconded.

The son of the debtor was publicly examined. He denied that a number of sewing machines had been taken to a house where debtor's family lived, so that the business could be carried on in another name and thus avoid the official trustee's assessment. He agreed that the names of debtor's two sons were combined with others in the new company, but added that he did not see anything significant in that.

Questioned in regard to the whereabouts of his father, witness said he had gone to Canton. He did not think he was engaged in any business. Witness, although it bore his signature, denied that he had sent a letter to a creditor taunting him with putting the debtor in bankruptcy. He admitted being engaged in the hat manufacturing business at the present time.

The Official Receiver indicated that this was as far as he intended proceeding with the matter at present.

RUSSO-ASIATIC BANK.

In the matter of the Russo-Asiatic Bank, a formal application was made for an order appointing the Official Receiver as liquidator.

Mr. Tratman indicated that he had already been provisionally appointed. The application was in accordance with the resolution passed at a meeting of creditors. No contributories had attended the meeting called, this being explained in the documents on his Lordship's file, which showed that there were no contributories in the Colony or within reach.

The order was made in the terms of that appointing the Official Receiver as provisional liquidator.

BOTH SIGNATURES NECESSARY.

Arising out of a point raised by Mr. W. B. Hind at a previous hearing as to whether two partners in a firm could apply for a receiving order without obtaining the signatures of the other partners, his Lordship found for Mr. Hind and held that both signatures were necessary. The application of the Fuk Hing Ping Kee Company for a receiving order was therefore refused. Mr. D. McCallum represented the firm at the previous hearing.

SATURDAY'S SALE OF WORK.

SUCCESSFUL EFFORT BY DIOCESAN GIRLS'
SCHOOL.FOR SPORTS GROUND AND SUPPORT OF ORPHAN.

With the aim of raising $1,000 for their school sports ground and athletic equipment, and also for the support of an orphan in the Victoria Home, Kowloon City, a successful sale of work was held at the Diocesan Girls' School on Saturday afternoon. There was a large number of pupils, old pupils, parents and friends present as well as members of the general public.

Mrs. W. T. Southern, who was introduced by the Rev. G. R. Lindsay (Vicar of St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon) declared the sale of work open.

Mrs. Southern emphasised the need for a sports ground and the part played by sport in the life of a modern school. "Sport," said Mrs. Southern, "helps girls to have patience, it keeps them good tempered and helps them to take defeat well."

The function was jointly organised by the present pupils and staff of the school, the Old Girls' Association and the School troop of Girl Guides.

A feature of the arrangements was a room set aside for competitions and raffles. This was in charge of members of the Old Girls' Association.

Mrs. M. K. Lo did a brisk trade with a miniature switchback which was very much patronised by the young people present, whilst Miss Allen, of the School staff, was in charge of the coconut shied. The sports ground, which adjoins the school, was presented free by the Government, the only stipulation being the erection of a suitable wall around the ground. This was provided by the School Committee at a cost of $5,000. The present appeal is in connection with the laying out of tennis courts, etc.

Part of the proceeds will be devoted to the upkeep of two beds in the hospital, and an annual donation of $5 will also be sent to Dr. Barnardo's Homes.

FROM THE WAR AREA.

PREPARATIONS FOR WINTER
CHAMPAIGN.

MARSHAL WU AND SUN.

According to the Shanghai Mercury in view of Jehol and Chahar districts being again menaced by the North-western Army under General Feng Yu Hsiang, the Fengtien armies have decided to take both the offensive and defensive against the North-western force. Marshal Chang Tao Lin has incorporated the 17th Cavalry Brigade into General Tang Yu Lin's Army in Jehol, and the 21st Cavalry Brigade into General Kao Wei Yush's Army in Chahar.

A later message states that Marshal Chang Tsung Chang, Tupan of Shan-tung arrived from Tainan on November 29th and proceeded to the Tsai Chia Garden, where he conferred with Marshal Chang Tao Lin and General Yang Yu K'ing about plans against the South-western forces which were altered at the recent Tientsin Conference.

Allied Troops Moving South.

Movements of Marshal Chang Tsung Chang's troops southward continue. The 102nd Brigade of the 6th Army has left Tientsin and is reported as having passed Chingchow, while a Russian detachment, which had been at Lincheng left there on the evening of November 22nd. The 11th Army under General Wang Han Ming is stated to be on the point of starting for Anhui.

Meanwhile, according to Chinese reports Marshal Feng Yu Hsiang has appointed General Cheng Chin Sheng and General Cheng Hsi Sheng as Commander and Vice-Commander of the forces of the Kuomintang at Pao-tou-chun and Wuyuan. This is regarded as Marshal Feng's rear as many of his troops have advanced considerably southward from Pao-tou-chun through Yulin to Sanyuan and Sianfu.

Mukden Arsenal Busy.

An earlier message from Mukden states that Mukden has been made to respond to the decision of the Tientsin Conference to inaugurate a winter campaign against the Cantonese. Troops from outlying districts have been brought into the city, while the 14th Regiment has received orders to proceed southwards to Shanhaiwan. Vehicles collected here have been entrusted for Tientsin and will be used for baggage purposes. The commissariat of the 3rd and 4th Army Corps under the command of General Chang Hsueh Liang will have its headquarters at Tientsin. Some 200 quick-firing guns have been despatched from Mukden, and the production of the Arsenal is being speeded up to work ten hours a day instead of the usual eight. The fleet of aeroplanes belonging to Mukden has been mobilised for service along the Tientsin-Pukow, Peking-Hankow and Peking-Suiyuan railways and also at Tientsin and Peking.

Fengpiao has dropped some 20 points on receipt of the news that a fresh campaign is to be waged.

Marshal Sun Studying the Classics?

Mystery shrouds the person of Marshal Sun Chuan Fang says a Chinese news agency on November 25th. One Chinese report places him abroad a foreign vessel, bound for Shanghai, another puts him in retirement in the British concession, pouring over Chinese classics. The Tai Shih Pao says that, aimed at his defeat at the hands of the Cantonese, the good Marshal has turned to the military strategic classics for consolation.

Marshal Sun, the paper sets forth, is devoting himself to the 13 books written by Sun Ping and Wu Chi, scholarly militarists who flourished in the various Kingdom period, 2500 years ago.

Marshal Wu Pei Fu To Carry On.
The rumour of Marshal Wu's retirement, recently announced, and immediately denied, may have been founded on the report of a traveller from Chingchow who stated that:—

Desperately ill, and confronted with the opposition of General Chin Yun An, who, it is said, holds the military power, Marshal Wu Pei Fu is as pitiful a figure. Marshal Wu is held responsible by the army for funds and food, but it is too drastic measures are enforced in Honan province, the people curse Marshal Wu. If he fails to raise money, his subordinate generals attempt to exert pressure upon him. The Marshal believes that his judgment was faulty in choosing his subordinates. The scholarly warrior sleeps but an hour or two each night, and may be seen tramping disconsolately about his headquarters at all hours, it is said. It is pointed out that many civilian residents of Honan have great respect for Marshal Wu, and have pledged faith to him. If the Chinli Warlord departs, the troops along the Peking-Hankow line will be seriously victimized.

The traveller asserts that it is improbable that Marshal Wu will retire, despite the pressure that has been brought upon him.

Very different is the tone of a letter in which the Marshal is said to have replied to a complaint from Chao Hsueh Liang.

Marshal Wu writes:—

"The tardy movement of my troops may be ascribed to a number of causes. The most important is lack of funds and ammunition. I can hardly reveal the other causes to you."
Plans are being made daily for the counter-attack, and as soon as preparations are completed, it will be staged.
"Though Kinkiang has fallen into the hands of the enemy, it has not affected military plans here. We feel that an anti-Cantonese policy is our duty. Though my task is a dangerous one, and there are a thousand difficulties to surmount, I will never shift my burden to the shoulders of another."

THE CHANGE OF CAPITALS.

When the Canton officials left for a tour of inspection in Central China last month it was announced that they would probably return in six weeks time. Since it has been formally decided to establish the capital of the Nationalist Government in Wuchang, however, plans have been changed and it is unlikely that we shall see the responsible leaders of the Kuomintang Party in the South again.

According to report many of the staffs of the Government Departments were to leave for their new quarters yesterday and Kwangtung including Canton, therefore, comes automatically under the control of the Provincial Government.

"Thus the centre of gravity in the China situation passes from the South to the Wuban cities, and if the ambitions of the Southern leaders are realised it will not be many months before their influence extends to Peking when, of course, they will very justly be able to claim to speak on behalf of China as a whole. Although the military situation in the North is not particularly clear it is evident that Wu, Pui Fu and SUN CHUAN FANG have been practically eliminated, and the only remaining leader in this triumvirate which a comparatively short time since appeared to control the country's destiny is CHANG TSO LIN. There has been a great deal of talk of CHANG TSO LIN sending his troops against the South, but the rivalries and jealousies of the different military leaders have, so far, prevented anything practical from being done and it would appear now that this War Lord would be well-advised to content himself with the territory which he has for so long controlled and admirably administered in Manchuria. A responsible Government is undoubtedly the great need of China to-day. There seems to be no prospect of the North being able to establish such a Government and we trust, therefore, that the South will undertake the task and carry it through quickly and successfully. That seems to be the only hope of getting some semblance of order out of the present chaos.

The Kuomintang whilst struggling to power has necessarily had to close its eyes to the disorders and excesses of many of its ignorant and unruly supporters. Its success has been achieved mainly by propaganda and by enlisting all the Labour Unions under its banner, and as a consequence wherever the Canton army has gone strikes and trade disturbances have quickly followed. But we do not believe that the responsible heads of the Kuomintang Party, many of whom are well educated men trained in Western universities, will be satisfied that these conditions shall persist. We think they are sufficiently enlightened to realise that once firmly in the saddle of authority their only chance of remaining there will be to demonstrate their capacity to govern. For this reason we do not take very seriously General CHIANG KAI SHEK's recent extravagant remarks about the abrogation of all treaties, the abolition of foreign supervision of the Customs, and Salt Gabelle and the destruction of "imperialism" in any and all countries where it may be found. If such statements were made at all, which is still doubtful, we should regard them as a little ornate window dressing.

Of course, it must be expected that the Southerners will make extravagant demands if and when they establish themselves as the Government of China and are recognised as such by the Foreign Powers. But we do not think they will be so foolish as to range world opinion against them by refusing to discuss alleged grievances or to negotiate regarding the best means of putting an end to them. At the present moment the British Minister is travelling around China with credentials in his pocket unable to present them to anyone in authority. It is a farcical position and until it is ended there is no prospect of any real progress being made in Chinese affairs. With a Southern Government in power the situation will be regularised to some extent. There will be a body with which to deal and as often happens in politics at Home, the responsibilities of office will probably have the effect of tuning-down very considerably the exuberances to which Ministers gave utterance when occupying the unfettered position of members of the opposition.

The collections at St. John's Cathedral yesterday were devoted to the British and Foreign Bible Society.

A Chinese war film will shortly be shown in Hong Kong. Photographers are said to have accompanied the troops into action and scenes showing the different branches of the Cantonese forces will be portrayed.

The adjourned hearing of the case in which a Japanese broker was charged with refusing to pay his tram fare, was brought to a conclusion on Saturday morning before Mr. R. E. Lindsell, at the Central Magistracy. HACKED TO DEATH.

CHINESE RENT COLLECTOR MURDERED AT WANCHAI.

A Chinese rent collector was brutally done to death in Wanchai yesterday afternoon, and his assailants managed to get away. Deceased, who was aged 55 years, used a house at the corner of Spring Garden Lane and "Sampans" Street as his office, and was seen there at 1 p.m.

Some four hours later an employee went to the premises and found the door locked. As this seemed unusual a forced entry was made, and he found his master lying on the floor in a pool of blood. His throat was cut, and his body was gashed all over.

Deceased must have been murdered some time during the afternoon, but the deed was carried out without anything untoward being noticed by passers-by. Up to late last night, no arrests had been made. Daggers and choppers had evidently been used.

WEATHER REPORT.

Last night's weather report, forecast and remarks, issued from the Royal Observatory at 8.30, stated:—

The anti-cyclone is moving eastward. The typhoon is moving W.N.W. toward the Southern Visayas. Moderate monsoon may be expected over the China Sea.

UNSETTLED CHINA.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE'S VIEWS.

INTERESTING PRESS COMMENT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SHANGHAI, December 5th.

Chinese reports state that Foochow has been occupied by Southerners and that all is quiet.

There is very little telegraphic news from Hankow. The latest, by wireless, states that the situation yesterday was much easier. Though a number of strikes are in progress and all classes of labourers are forming Unions, there is no immediate prospect of a general strike.

A mass meeting has been called of Chinese bodies for to-day, for the purpose of demanding local autonomy or neutralisation.

In Shanghai and vicinity the conflicts have been postponed owing to the weather and the prohibition of the Chinese authorities.

What Mr. Lloyd George Declares.

LONDON, December 4th.

The "Chinese are simply struggling for the elementary fundamental rights of every free and self-respecting nation," declared Mr. Lloyd George, speaking at Bradford. He urged Britain to see that justice was done to China. He welcomed Sir Austen Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons, but declared that great pressure was being brought to make the Government do something impulsive and provocative. He asserted that the record of Western civilisation in China was indeed black and that foreigners there were suffering from their own greed.

What "The Sunday Times" Thinks.

LONDON, December 5th.

"Whether we like it or not," says the Sunday Times, in a leader, "the truth is that the Nationalist sentiment, which is so strongly manifesting itself in China today, is an unquenchable revolutionary force. Undoubtedly it is being utilised to the fullest possible extent by Moscow, but the discontent lies not in itself or its creation. It is a clear example of a developing of the National consciousness." Meantime, the journal urges the British Government to continue to pursue a policy of patience.

Mr. Garvin's Views.

Emphasising that the present movement in China is one of nationalism not Bolshevism, Mr. J. L. Garvin, in an article in the Observer, says that Sir Austen Chamberlain has been besieged by reactionary advice, and that panic counsels are being urged upon us to rely upon "gunboat policy" against the national popular movement to China towards which, while protecting her subjects, Britain must demonstrate she is at least as friendly as any other Power and declare herself equally ready to accept liberally and courageously the gradual system of transition which must eventually lead to full-Chinese sovereignty. By conciliatory statesmanship, we must accommodate ourselves to inevitable progress for, despite all checks of the national cause, it is likely to prove in the long run one of the most far-reaching movements in the whole world's history.

"To Act Prudently!"

Paris, December 4th.

The Petit Parisien states that M. Briand, the French Foreign Minister, and Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, have decided to act prudently in regard to events in China in order that there may be no danger to Franco-British interests.

Paris Press Comment.

Paris, December 4th.

A plea for a united and active policy by the Powers in regard to China is made by the Petit Journal, which says:—"It is to our interest to promote as best we can a peaceful and juridical settlement of the Chinese problem, namely, the relations between the European and Asiatic Powers who sit side by side at Geneva, and who have accepted a common statute. Hitherto, the Great Powers with interests in China have remained inactive, because they are divided, but that situation cannot last long without danger."

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

The British Minister.

RUGBY, December 3rd.

Mr. Miles Lampson, the British Minister of China, is proceeding from Shanghai via Hankow to Hankow, where he will probably arrive on Tuesday.

The British Government has given Mr. Lampson wide latitude to deal with the situation, and his decision to visit Hankow is regarded by the Press as a wise move. He will proceed later to Peking where, however, no Government exists at present to which his credentials could be presented.

THE SIANFU SIEGE.

CONDITIONS "UNSPEAKABLE." FOREIGNERS SUPPLIES BELIEVED EXHAUSTED.

SANYUAN, Shensi, Nov. 16th.

The siege of Sianfu, capital of Shensi, which began on April 16th, is continuing. It has now lasted exactly six months. After heavy fighting early in November, Liu Chen Hua's troops retreated, but recovered and renewed fighting.

The two brigadiers who ordered the retreat were shot by Liu Chen Hua's orders. Conditions within Sianfu are unspeakable, and it is believed that the foreigners' supplies are exhausted.

The Catholics killed and ate a horse ten days ago. The casualties being very heavy, both sides are now awaiting reinforcements.

ANGLO-GERMAN COMMERCE.

THE LONDON CONFERENCE OPENS.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE.

LONDON, December 3rd.

Five leading German industrialists, representing the German Federation of Industries, and headed by Dr. Duisberg, the President of the Federation, arrived in London this morning and began a conference with representatives of the Federation of British Industries, Sir Max Muspratt, Sir Vincent Caillard, Sir Eric Geddes, Colonel Vernon Willey, and Mr. Clive Cookson, with regard to Anglo-German commercial relationships and the prospects of removing the barriers of Anglo-German industry.

An atmosphere of the utmost cordiality and mutual helpfulness characterised the meeting. All day the industrialists explored the methods of mutual co-operation and also various questions affecting the economic position of Europe, especially in connection with the forthcoming Economic Conference of the League.

The parties will meet again to-morrow. Mutual Co-Operation.

LATER.

An atmosphere of the utmost cordiality and mutual helpfulness prevailed at the meeting of the British and German industrial leaders who spent the whole day exploring methods of mutual co-operation, also various questions affecting the economic position of Europe, especially in connection with the forthcoming economic conference of the League. The industrial leaders will meet again to-morrow.

Further Details.

LONDON, December 4th.

Expressions of cordiality marked the conclusion of the two days' conference of the British and German industrialists. The official report mentions that the two organisations are further to investigate the general European and economic situation with a view to their next meeting.

Discussions were also held on the question as to the possibility of increasing the credit, insurance and supply of information on the credit of potential customers. No further step will be taken, however, until after the forthcoming international meeting of representatives of European insurance companies. Both organisations expressed great satisfaction of the progress made and the great future possibilities opened up for their co-operation.

A Disclaimer.

LATER.

An important disclaimer has been issued by the heads of both Federations, wherein they emphasise that the question of international cartels and combines was not discussed at the Conference nor is there reason for the suggestion of any combined action by British and German industry against any other country's industry as had been mentioned.

The representatives of both organisations declare that they would regard such action not mere improper, but extremely foolish.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Powers Limited.

RUGBY, December 3rd.

It is stated that neither the British nor German delegates have power to commit any firm or industry. Their aim is to explore credit, insurance, double taxation and taxation of reserves, patent rights, multiplicity of tariff walls in Europe, and kindred matters.

Common Classification the Aim.

RUGBY, December 4th.

After yesterday's meeting of the Federation of British Industries and the Federation of German Industries an official statement was issued.

It says that the German delegates introduced a discussion on hindrances of tariff barriers. A detailed discussion of the tariff was considered premature, it being agreed that much preparatory work had to be done.

It was agreed to aim at a common classification for Customs purposes with a view to representations being made to the two respective Governments.

The conference agreed that Government subsidies to industry were injurious to international trade. The experts of the two bodies are to schedule desirable and undesirable forms of subsidies for further discussion.

Discussions are to continue between the two organisations with a view to presenting suggestions to the British and German Governments for agreement on the question of double taxation on industry—that is, of firms of both countries being taxed in Great Britain and Germany. The two bodies will go into the question of Trade Fairs with a view to reaching a common policy.

THE SINO-BELGIAN TREATY.

HOW PEKING'S POLITICIANS REGARD IT.

STATEMENT TO THE PRESS.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENEVA, December 4th.

Acting on instructions from Peking, Mr. Chao Sien Chih, in a statement to the Press, declares that China is firmly opposed to submission to the Hague Court of the question of interpretation regarding the Sino-Belgian Treaty, considering the controversy as rather political than juridical, but one in which China, nevertheless, will be prepared to bring her case before the League Assembly in conformity with para. 2, Art. II. of the League Covenant and Statement. Mr. Chao adds that China has resolved to terminate all unequal treaties on their expiration and henceforth not to accept any proposal contrary to the principle of equality. The remainder of the statement is a defence of China's attitude.

INDIA'S CURRENCY.

AN AUTHORITATIVE STATEMENT.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

DELHI, December 4th.

Sir Basil Blackett, a Finance Member of the Executive Council of India, addressing the European Association, denied the allegation that the agriculturist, whether producer or landless labourer, suffered any net financial loss by the Government's decision to stabilise the rupee at 1s. 6d. On the contrary, the agriculturist gains by escaping a period of instability and maladjustment of prices from the sixteen pence ratio. Sir Basil stated that an immediate introduction of the gold currency would involve India in dangerous risks, which might lead to the breakdown of the effort to establish a gold standard in any form.

U.S. NATIONAL DEFENCE.

WARNING NOTE FROM THE WAR SECRETARY.

IMPORTANT SUGGESTIONS.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, December 4th.

A warning against "blindly deluding ourselves" on the subject of national defence is sounded by Secretary Davis, of the War Department, in his annual report. He says there has been only partial execution of the plan of defence mapped out in 1920. Even the maintenance of the Army on its present basis requires an appropriation of more funds annually.

Secretary Davis disapproves of the proposals to transfer the Army Engineer Corps duties to outside the Army. The present system of administering the rivers and harbours is the "most economical in the long run. He estimates that the completion of the waterway and harbour developments now in progress will take $225,000,000 and will last at least five years. Approximately 85 per cent. of the Ohio River Development has been completed and inland waterways are carrying 200,000,000 tons cargo annually, at an economic saving of at least $150,000,000 annually.

Secretary Davis stresses the necessity for providing proper barracks quarters for the Army personnel.

POLICY OF PEACE.

ANGLO-FRENCH AMITY.

STATEMENT BY SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN.

RUGBY, December 3rd.

Sir Austen and Lady Chamberlain dined to-day with M. Briand, the French Foreign Minister, at the Quai d'Orsay. Other guests included M. Poincare, M. Herriot and Earl Crewe, the British Ambassador.

Receiving Press representatives later at the French Embassy, Sir Austen Chamberlain said:—"I had the pleasure of a short conversation with M. Poincare this afternoon and subsequently had a long conference with M. Briand. This was chiefly on those questions which are on the agenda at Geneva. We also discussed several questions of general interest which it is necessary to review between the Foreign Ministers of two nations united in carrying out a policy of peace. During the two years that I have been in touch with M. Briand, we have found ourselves in agreement regarding subjects at issue and particularly those concerning the forthcoming session of the League of Nations Council. "I do not recollect exactly what I told you on my previous visit, but I believe I said we had carried out something great in the way of progress towards the policy of peace, and I asked you not to expect too great or too immediate results from the Locarno Agreement. I can but repeat this advice. Since then, our work has been progressing slowly but surely, and even other countries have not failed to appreciate and to be affected by the results obtained. This progress is continuing, but we still have difficulties to face. Provided we find means of solving these little by little, we can go farther, and this is the only way whereby we shall ultimately arrive at a satisfactory state of affairs in Europe. To-morrow evening, Sir Austen Chamberlain proceeds to Geneva, travelling by the same train as M. Briand.

Agreement on German Disarmament?

RUGBY, December 4th.

An official communiqué issued to the Press, after Sir Austen Chamberlain had dined yesterday with M. Briand and M. Poincare, stated that "the two Foreign Ministers examined the various questions of external policy, more particularly the questions on the agenda of the League Council at Geneva. They took note of their community of views and propose to continue at Geneva their conversations on other points of detail which they had not time to examine at this first meeting."

According to a fuller report of Sir A. Chamberlain's interview with the Press, the British Foreign Secretary said that he saw nothing impossible in reaching an agreement on German disarmament with Dr. Stresemann and M. Briand in the course of the session of the League Council, and he hoped that the Inter-Allied Commission might be withdrawn before very long. His conversations with the French Ministers and assurances which he had received from Berlin made him feel confident that they would be able to resolve the problems which faced them now and reaffirm their co-operation.

An Irritant.

The Times, commenting thereon, remarks that the dispute over German disarmament has been an obstacle to the rapid development of the Locarno Treaty policy and an irritant that has constantly checked the healing process of reconciliation. If the Paris conversations contribute to its removal they will have been very valuable indeed.

The problem of disarmament may be said to come under two main headings—the immediate disarmament of Germany and a general reduction of armaments in all countries. The completion of the first task will be a signal for the transfer of control in Germany to the League. International limitation is, of course, already the cherished aim of the League.

AMERICA AND THE PACIFIC.

CURIOSITY AS TO THE NAVAL SITUATION.

AN ADMIRAL AND "STATE SECRETS."

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, December 5th.

There has been great curiosity to learn something definite about the naval situation on the Pacific. It is four years since Admiral Robison refused to give evidence with regard to "State secrets," which, according to the defence, justified Mr. Doheny, the millionaire oil magnate, and ex-Senator Hall, then Secretary of the Interior, rushing through the lease of the Naval Oil Reserve Lands at Elks Hills, California, to Doheny's company for exploitation. Mr. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy, warned Admiral Robison against revealing "confidential matters," but the Supreme Court District of Columbia ruled in the trial that the Court had authority to declare what should be submitted to the jury. Admiral Robison then testified that the Naval Authorities, during ex-President Harding's regime, were convinced that Pearl Harbour strategically was important was a Hawaiian Base in their plans of national defence.

THE HALL-MILLS TRIAL.

ACCUSED ACQUITTED.

NEW YORK, December 3rd.

A message from Somerville, New Jersey, states that the jury has acquitted the three accused in the Hall-Mills murder case.

FRENZIED PROSECUTION.

SOMERVILLE, December 5th.

Despite the frenzied efforts and denunciations of the prosecuting counsel, Mr. Simpson, all the accused in the Hall-Mills trial were released to-day, after Justice Parker had quashed the remaining indictments against the Stevens brothers and their cousin, Henry Carpenter, on a charge of murdering the Rev. Hall.

The Governor of New Jersey declares that the trial must now stop, adding "I won't permit prosecution to become persecution." Thus ends one of the most remarkable and most widely discussed trials ever held in America, reports of which have been occupying over a dozen columns in morning and evening journals, the majority of which comment approvingly of Mrs. Hall's dignified bearing and composure throughout the long ordeal.

New Jersey's Justice.

Mr. Simpson, in a letter to the Governor, resigning his position as Assistant Attorney-General, says:—"If justice is to be obstructed by a cessation of further prosecution in this murder case, I respectfully suggest that your emblem New Jersey's Justice and send her to the British museum."

HAVANA, December 5th.

The port police have orders to prevent the landing of Madame Kollontay, the newly appointed Russian diplomatic representative to Mexico; when she arrives en route to her new post.

MEXICO AND FOREIGN FIRMS.

MEXICO CITY, December 4th.

A Committee of the Mexico Senate, which is considering the proposed law requiring at least 80 per cent. of the employees of all concerns doing business in Mexico to be Mexicans has decided to amend the Bill so that foreign houses will be allowed to reduce their foreign personnel at the rate of twenty per cent. per annum until the required eighty per cent. has been reached.

As passed by the Chamber of Deputies the required quota would have become effective immediately the law was promulgated.

CRICKET.

K.O.S.B. BEATEN.
NO DRAWN MATCHES.

Further progress was made in the League on Saturday when three matches in each division were decided.

In the first division, the King's Own Scottish Borderers, who made their first appearance, suffered a defeat at the hands of a strong Hong Kong Cricket Club eleven. Capt. Dobbie, whose name, by now, has become a household word in cricket circles, made the highest score of the match, viz., 66, which was also the highest score of the day. The team, however, has done well against the premier Cricket Club of the Colony and will doubtless prove a match for most Clubs competing in the League. For their opponents on Saturday, Hayward and Pearce did good service in batting, while Bowker and Owen Hughes shared nine wickets between them.

At Happy Valley, Civil Service had little difficulty in defeating Craighower, their neighbours, and they still lead in the League Table on a level with the Indian Recreation Club, who secured a victory in the third match at Sookun-poo over the Royal Engineers and Signals. The Indians passed their opponents score a few minutes before time for drawing stumps.

In the second division, the newcomers, Recreo, met and defeated the R.A.O.C. easily by 78 runs at King's Park, while in the other match in Kowloon, the Kowloon Cricket Club again disappointed their supporters by going down to the Police. In the third match at Pokfulam the Royal Navy proved too strong for their depot ship, H.M.S. Tamar, whom they defeated in convincing manner.

There were two friendly matches following—

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP SURPRISE.

A. H. FERGUSON KNOCKED OUT IN FIRST ROUND.

THE SEMI-FINAL STAGE REACHED.

There was a big surprise in the competition for the Royal Hong Kong Golf Club Championship at Fanling yesterday. A. H. Ferguson, who was looked upon as a possible for the semi-final stage, was beaten in the first round by J. W. Franks. Ferguson was the only player in the semi-final stage last year who qualified for the first round this year.

I. W. Shewan, who has qualified for one of the semi-finals, played exceptionally good golf all day. In the morning he beat F. J. de Rome, and in the afternoon round disposed of J. W. Franks. Captain Bloxham, who last year survived the first round, did so on this occasion, but went down to W. L. Dunbar in the afternoon, after the latter player had beaten Newton in the morning. N. L. Smith, another semi-finalist, who lost in the second round last year to H. U. Ireland (winner of the 1925 Championship) got through after disposing of Leach and Redmond. Smith will meet in the semi-final T. D. E. Pendered who disposed of Dodwell in the morning and Purves in the afternoon. Purves won his morning round against Johnson by one up.

The results of yesterday's play were as under—

First Round.
I. W. Shewan beat F. J. de Rome, 4 and 2.
J. W. Franks beat A. H. Ferguson, 3 and 1.
W. L. Dunbar beat I. Newton, 5 and 3.
H. Bloxham beat H. V. Sheldon, 2 and 1.
F. A. Redmond beat D. G. Bruce, 6 and 4.
N. L. Smith beat A. Leach, 7 and 5.
A. B. Purves beat C. Bulmer Johnson, 1 up.
T. D. E. Pendered beat L. G. S. Dodwell, 3 and 2.

Second Round.
I. W. Shewan beat J. W. Franks, 6 and 5.
W. L. Dunbar beat H. Bloxham, 5 and 3.
N. L. Smith beat F. A. Redmond, 2 and 1.
T. D. E. Pendered beat Purves, 6 and 4.

The semi-finalists thus are—
I. W. Shewan, W. L. Dunbar and N. L. Smith v. T. D. E. Pendered.
The semi-final round will be played next Sunday; while the final, over 36 holes will be played on Sunday, December 12th.

Jasper Clark Cup Re-play.
The replay for the Jasper Clark Cup took place on Saturday at Fanling over 18 holes, conditions being medal play.
Last Sunday A. H. Ferguson and I. W. Shewan tied for the trophy with a score of 164 over 36 holes. On Sunday, Ferguson won the trophy, his score being 79, and Shewan's score 82.

The final of the Shanghai Golf Club Championship was played on November 25th when M. W. Budd won it for the third year in succession, defeating A. B. Blinks by 6 up and 5 to play.

YACHTING.

RACE ROUND THE ISLAND UNFINISHED.

Eight cruiser yachts set out from the Royal Hong Kong Club at 10.30 a.m. yesterday, on a race around the Island, a distance of 24 miles. The time for finishing was up to 6.30 p.m. but by then not one of the yachts put in an appearance. The race was, therefore, declared unfinished.

The boats which started were La Cigale, Norseman, Queen Bee, U and I, Feathers, Coquette, Lady Jean and Dorothy II. Conditions were very unfavourable and it was thought at the beginning that a detour of the Island was impossible. At the start the wind was east, force 2. It changed about noon to the west with force 1, and about 3 o'clock there was a further change and the wind turned northward. These changes militated badly against progress. The boats drifted slowly on their course. Lady Jean returned to the Yacht Club at about 5.30, on her motor power. La Cigale, one of the fastest boats, reached Repulse Bay in the evening and moored. Others eventually joined her when darkness had set in. The remaining boats got no further than Tytam Bay. The race will, therefore, have to be sailed another day.

Army Defeats Navy.
Races were sailed between the Army and Navy at the Yacht Club yesterday, the Army winning by two points. In the afternoon the parties exchanged boats. The morning course was from the Club Line, Channel Rocks, Kowloon Rock, Channel Rock, East Buoy Rock, and finish at H.M.S. Findlay. The afternoon course was vice-versa.

In the morning race the Army had 21 points against the Navy's 15. Daphne (Army) came in first, Aida (Navy) second, and Sealark (Army) third. In the afternoon the Navy were victorious by 20 points to 17. Daphne (Navy) was first, Aida (Army) second, and Sealark (Navy), third. The Army totalled 38 points against the Navy's 38.

SHIPPING NOTES.

During the 24 hours ended at 9 a.m. on Saturday, there were 942 deck passengers entered into the Colony, of which 208 were brought by the s.s. President Taft.

The second engineer on the s.s. Antung was badly gassed and injured about the face by the bursting of the ammonia refrigerating plant during the voyage from China to Singapore. The vessel arrived in Singapore on November 17th, and the injured man was taken to the hospital.

In a notice issued by the Rangoon Port Officer, dated November 2nd it is stated that the light vessel Remondine will be placed on her station at the Spit on or about the 15th November, 1926, and will exhibit by night one white fixed light visible 12 miles. The vessel has one mast and "Spit" painted on sides in white on a red hull. The light vessel Martian placed temporarily at Spit station will be withdrawn on the same date. Publication—Bay of Bengal Pilot, 1925, Page 459. Admiralty List of Lights, Part 6, Indian List of Lights, 1925, No. 304, Page 56.

News has reached Hong Kong that the Leung Kwong, which sank following a collision between 2 Chinese steamers, has been raised. The report says that this boat (formerly a regular caller here) may be sent down to Hong Kong for repairs and overhaul.

The s.s. Ting Sing, which was damaged in the bows and run aground in shallow water near river bank has not been salvaged. In Chinese shipping circles it is stated her owners prefer to wait till high water at the next rainy season so that the ship can be refloated without extensive salvage operations.

The battleships Thunderer and King George V were to be paid off into Dockyard control at Devonport on November 6th and December 1st respectively. These two battleships, under the Washington Treaty, had had to be scrapped by December in view of the new battleships Nelson and Rodney nearing completion. The Thunderer and King George V were two of the principal battleships in the Grand Fleet when war began, and both fought at Jutland.

HONG KONG SHIPPING.

SATURDAY'S STATEMENTS.

General cargo imported into Hong Kong during the 24 hours ended at 9 a.m. on Saturday was still below the average. Through freights carried by steamers passing through Hong Kong had returned to the average, since the heavy drop on Friday last.

The amount of cargo landed here was 4,732 tons out of 12 arrivals, 1,173 tons of which were discharged by 9 British vessels; five Japanese steamers contributed 3,393 and the balance of 110 tons were from a French vessel.

The two best returns were 1,750 tons ex s.s. Tetuan Maru, from Keelung, and 1,122 tons from the Saunko Maru, from Nagoya and Moji.

Cargo for ports beyond totalled 10,934 tons, with 13,983 tons on five Japanese vessels. British steamers manifested 2,647 tons, and 4,302 tons were on the s.s. Sumatra, a Swedish vessel from Yokohama and Shanghai.

The best returns were 5,098 tons on the India Maru from Rotterdam and Singapore; 4,730 tons on s.s. Atsuta Maru, from Yokohama and Shanghai.

During the period under review, there were 12 arrivals and 11 departures. Their nationalities were:—British, 9 arrivals and 6 departures; Japanese, 5 arrivals and 3 departures; Chinese, 1 departure; Dutch, 1 arrival; French, 1 arrival; American, 2 arrivals and 1 departure; Swedish, 1 arrival. A total of 71 vessels were in port, of which 27 were British.

The tabulated lists of arrivals and clearances will be found in another column.

OIL DRIVEN SHIPS IN FUTURE.

RESULT OF DISPUTE IN COAL INDUSTRY.

The shipowner would never again be content to place himself at the mercy of the miners, said Lord Inverforth, speaking on the development of the internal combustion engine for marine propulsion.

Numerous services associated with the sea and various administrative Government departments were represented at the dinner of the Institute of Marine Engineers in London recently. Lord Kylsant was in the chair.

Proposing the toast of the "Naval, military, and Air Forces of the Empire," Lord Inverforth said he was afraid it would be a long time before they were able to get away from the old maxim that the surest way to preserve peace was to prepare for war.

Old-Time Hardships.
Submitting "The Mercantile Marine, Sir R. Burton Chadwick, M.P., said it had given him great pleasure to hear a Colonial Premier describe the merchant service as "The greatest industry in the British Empire."

As an old seaman himself, he was highly gratified to notice that the service was attracting a greater share of public attention than it had ever done in the past. After all, the Navy, the Army, and the Air Force alike could do practically nothing without the continual co-operation of the Mercantile Marine.

Recently he had seen a good deal of conditions in the service, and he could not help comparing the lot of the lad who went to sea nowadays with his own experiences. He signed on for his first voyage at a wage of 30s. a month, and even after he had taken his "master's ticket" he was obliged to work sometimes for 24 a month. As a youth he had stood and watched the cabin steward put a dish of potatoes into the ship's hencoop, and he was not ashamed to confess that, as soon as that steward's back was turned, he dived into the coop and ate the food himself. "Such incidents, of course, no longer happened aboard ship."

Tilt at Unions.

One could not for instance conceive of the ship's cook springing at the word of command from his galley to the fore sheet, as he had to do in the old days. Indeed he supposed that, if it was ever desired to give such an order in these times, it would be necessary first to send wireless messages to the Transport Workers' Union and the Labour Bureau of the League of Nations at Geneva in order to obtain the necessary permission.

Sir George Higgins, in reply, remarked that shipowners whose vessels used coal as fuel were suffering severely owing to the trouble in the mining industry. Undoubtedly in the near future there would be a great increase in the number of vessels burning oil fuel or fitted with internal combustion engines.

LONDON'S WHITE ELEPHANT.

UNDIGNIFIED START FOR AMERICA.

The sacred white (or, more truthfully, pink) elephant left the London Zoo for America on the morning of November 5th. The parting was robbed of its dignity by the behaviour of the attendant elephant—an ordinary slate-coloured companion of the deified beast.

At King's Cross Station the white elephant was pressed to enter the travelling truck. After enormous pushing he was safely boxed. The second animal was a different matter. Ponderous and continuous dancing made it impossible to do anything with him. The unhandy and obstinate brute defeated all attempts to get him in the train. As the simplest way out of the trouble the white elephant was taken out of his car and the pair were walked all the way to the docks—some eight miles—and put aboard the s.s. Minnetonka.

He is to tour Canada and the United States under the management of Mr. Bertram W. Mills, who has contracted for the elephant and suite for the next twelve months.
